

October 2014

Krista from Buffington Properties has been managing our three rental properties for three years. It got to the point that we no longer wanted to mess with them and she took over right away and eased our minds. During that time she performed her duties in a very professional manner and has bent over backwards many times to help us in anyway. She was always cheerful and informative and still is. We have since sold the properties which she helped tremendously in accomplishing this. We still use Krista on an "as needed basis". We have referred many friends to her and Buffington Properties and they have been pleased.
