posted in the mobile home park and mailed to the resident. However, rent shall not be increased during the term of the lease.

§ 398.7. Appliance installation fees.

No mobile home park owner or operator may restrict the making of any interior improvements in a mobile home so long as such improvements are in compliance with applicable building codes and other provisions of law; nor may he restrict the installation, service or maintenance of an electric or gas appliance in a mobile home or charge any fee for such installation unless the fee reflects the actual cost to the mobile home park owner or operator of such installation or its use.

§ 398.8. Entrance and exit fees.

Entrance and exit fees may not be charged.

§ 398.9. Installation and removal fees.

Any fee charged for the installation or removal of a mobile home in a mobile home space shall not exceed the actual cost to the mobile home park owner or operator for providing such service. Failure to refund such fees as provided shall entitle the tenant to recover treble their amount plus court costs and reasonable attorney fees.

Imposition of this type of entrance fee shall not bar the mobile home park owner or operator from requiring a security deposit in accordance with the act of April 6, 1951 (P.L. 69, No. 20), known as "The Landlord and Tenant Act of 1951."

§ 398.10. Other fees.

In accordance with a resident's right to invite to his dwelling unit such social and business visitors as he wishes, no fee may be charged for overnight visitors or guests occupying a resident's mobile home. However, if such overnight visitors or guests so frequently remain overnight for residential purposes so as to increase the number of persons normally living in said unit, the owner or operator of a mobile home park may revise the rent due to conform to the rent paid by other residents with a like number of members in their household.

§ 398.11. Sale of mobile homes.

Any rule, regulation or condition of a lease purporting to prevent the sale of a mobile home belonging to a resident shall be void and unenforceable in the courts of the Commonwealth. The mobile home park owner or operator may reserve the right to approve the purchaser of said mobile home as a resident, but such approval may not be unreasonably withheld. Any claim for a fee or commission in connection with the sale of such mobile home shall be void and unenforceable unless the claimant shall in fact have acted as a bona fide licensed mobile home sales agent for the mobile home owner pursuant to a separate written agreement.

§ 398.12. Waiver or rights.

The rights and duties of mobile home park owners and operators and the mobile home residents may not be waived by any provisions of a written or oral agreement. Any such agreement attempting to limit these rights shall be void and unenforceable in the courts of the Commonwealth.

§ 398.13. Damages.

Any mobile home park owner, operator or resident aggrieved by a violation of their rights under this act may institute a private cause of action to recover damages, or for treble damages where so provided in this act, or for restitution in any appropriate court of initial jurisdiction within the Commonwealth.

§ 398.14. Restraining prohibited acts.

Whenever the Attorney General or a District Attorney has reason to believe that any person is using or is about to use any method, act or practice declared by this act to be prohibited, and that proceedings would be in the public interest, he may bring an action in the name of the Commonwealth against such person to restrain by temporary or permanent injunction the use of such method, act or practice.

§ 398.15. Enforcement.

The Attorney General shall have the power and it shall be his duty to enforce the provisions of this act, but in no event shall an individual be prohibited or otherwise restricted from initiating a private cause of action pursuant to any right or remedy conferred by this act.

§ 398.16. Retaliatory evictions.

Any action by a mobile home park owner or operator to recover possession of real property from a mobile home park resident or to change the lease within six months of a resident's assertion of his rights under this act or any other legal right shall raise a presumption that such action constitutes a retaliatory and unlawful eviction by the owner or operator and is in violation of this act. Such a presumption may be rebutted by competent evidence presented in any appropriate court of initial jurisdiction within the Commonwealth.
